UNDER CONSTRUCTION

For the past year projects have been constructed, friendships have been built, and memories have been made. The freshmen have finally mastered the layout of the hallways. Each of us has come a long way since the first day at SHS; each of us knows that he is constructing a foundation on which to build his dreams. The seniors are finishing up their thirteenth and final school year. Some are filling out college applications. Others are making plans to find their place in the working world. Everyone is looking forward to graduation, the day that will symbolize the completion of one stage of construction and the beginning of the next.

Certain events from the year have served as cornerstones of Student Life. Jessica Lynch crowned the Homecoming Queen at the football game. Hardcore ski buffs had to ski and snowboard on grass because it didn't snow until the end of January. "Little Shop of Horrors" was produced on our stage. And the Harlem Rockets visit to the school. Events like these form a foundation of memories for each of us.

Don't Hide Your Pride!

Let's Go Rams!

Staff Writer: Ashley Rohrbaugh

The week of September 20-24 was filled with displays of pride by fans pumped for the Fall Homecoming football game. One of the highlights of the Homecoming was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen by former POW Jessica Lynch. Both students and faculty participated in the week's festivities, which began with Copy Cat Day. Twin Day and Backwards Day brought Ram fans to school in wild attire. Anet Dishmon and Krissy Ashby came up with Copy Cat Day and Backwards Day: "We thought it would be fun to dress as a guy for a day and to wear our clothes backwards." Thursday was Hat Day and Friday was Red, White, and Blue Day. Melissa Stewart said, "Hat Day was cool, because I got to wear my boyfriend's favorite hat." Spirit Week also included a door decorating contest. The week was coordinated by Mr. Biggs and the cheerleaders.

Carey Rush and Taylor Moriarty express their school spirit on Twin Day. Carey explains, "It was fun dressing as Taylor for a day because she is my best friend." Jadyn and Julie Swerbinsky dressed alike on Copy Cat Day. James Shahan went so far as to wear a dress to school on Copy Cat Day! Several Southern girls strut their stuff on Backwards Day.

Mrs. Slaubaugh dresses like soccer player James Naylor for Copy Cat Day. Bruce Deal and Logan Craig turn their soccer uniforms around to support their team on Backwards Day. Elizabeth Rush and Jackie Skeweris enjoy Hat Day. Megan Shaffer and Matt Storey hurry to their first period in hats. Jessica Sypolt and Travis Nice wear the school colors on Red, White, and Blue Day. Erica Glotfelty and Cariessa Lewis arrive at school together wearing their favorite hats.

"The dance was totally awesome. This was my first dance that I have ever attended. I had fun getting dressed up and dancing with my friends," stated Stacy Sanders.

Courtney DiSimone and Leah Warnick looked happy on the dance floor. "The dance was lots of fun. I was dancing all night with my friends," Courtney shared.

Troy Townsend entertained everyone on the dance floor with goofy dance moves and the train he and his friends made. "I had a good time," said Troy. "You can't have fun unless you dance a lot!"

Chelsea Wassell and Tim Reams came to the dance together. "I enjoyed the dance a lot. I had fun being with Timmy."

Kendra McLaughlin shared, "I am glad I went to the dance. I have lots of great memories from it."

James Naylor spent most of the night with a big group of friends. "The dance exceeded my expectations. I was dancing all night with my friends," exclaimed James.

Sarah Cosner added, "I'm glad my friends talked me into coming. Sometimes dances can be a little boring, but my friends and I made it fun."

Fall Homecoming 2004

A Dream Come True

Fall Homecoming measures up to its dreamy theme

Staff Writer: Elizabeth Thayer

Fall Homecoming, the much anticipated Southern tradition, captivated hundreds of students with its theme, "A Dream Come True." Southern Rams and out of school guests alike appeared to have a great time. As the first dance of the year, the anticipation was high. For those on court, the dance was made all the more memorable. Logan Osekowski and Shar Hollingsworth were crowned King and Queen. Krista Hanline explained, "It was fun being on court. Although I still would have had a great time, court made the dance more memorable."

Most guests spent some serious time on the dance floor. Girls didn't let their high heels stop them and boys unbuttoned their shirts and tossed their ties to the side. What made this dance so great? Its theme had decorations that set the dreamy mood, and friends were together to share the moment. Ashley Rohrbaugh stated, "It would not have been the same without all my friends there. I enjoyed dressing up and going out to dinner with my friends and Cody." It appears that Fall Homecoming lived up to its theme: "A Dream Come True."

True Friends are those who are there for you always. They never question, but always offer support no matter what the circumstances are. Best friends are the people worth living for.

Walter Winchell, a famous American journalist, once said, "A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of the world walks out."

Your group of friends may change but the memories will never be forgotten. Katy Lucas states: "My friends are very important to me. They are always there for me no matter what. I don't know what I would do without them!"

Natalie Mayle and Donna Wisniewski enjoy spending their free time together.

Katie O'Brien and Amanda Bowers say that they are two great friends. They enjoy hanging out and doing different activities afterschool, such as going to the movies.

Krista Hanline and Melissa Rohrbaugh have always wanted to be in the yearbook for best friends. You made it, girls!

Bobby Bonser and James Naylor have shared the soccer field and the stage in high school. Would you let your best friend feed you to a plant?

Katie Mark, Jennifer Steyer and Randi Bennett said they have been best friends for a while. They all played softball together and have been friends ever since.

Maliciah McPhail and Joanne Buckle said that they just became good friends this year. They can tell each other anything and they are always there for each other.

Rett Rhodes tries to enjoy the balloons, despite the bad weather. Krista Hanline prepares herself for the ice cream battle while Dani Hickman gives the other contestants of the Ice Cream Eating Contest a run for their money. Tom Friend, Ashley Sharpless, and Eugene Shiflett brave the bad weather to ride on a float.

Two clowns try to liven up the dreary mood surrounding the rainy parade. Many organizations decorated parking meters around Oakland. Amanda Bowers steps out of her car to pose during a brief moment of sunshine. Taylor Crabtree and James Reckart hang out with their friend Mo at the Fire Hall. Evan Lantz and Joey Tressler stretch to prepare for the intense Ice Cream Eating Contest.

Rainy Parade

OCT. 13-17

A very cold and wet Autumn Glory Festival

Staff Writer: Laura Skipper

The Autumn Glory Festival in 2004 included some of the worst weather ever seen at the parade. The stormy clouds caused many people to stay home and miss the parade. Those who decided to stay home also missed the pouring rain and hail. However, some students bore the weather, either for tradition or because they were involved with a float. Many made the best of the day, and adjusted to the cold and to wet jackets. Fortunately, the following day was sunny, and the Ice Cream Eating Contest participants enjoyed a cloudless afternoon. The weather, which fluctuated between extremes during this festival weekend, made for an Autumn Glory to remember.

Christmas Time

Walking In A Winter Wonderland... The Snow is GLISTENIN'

At the dance students shared laughs and many memories. Winterball, the year's second dance, took place on December 18th. The theme of the Winterball 2004 dance was Christmas Time. The senior class sponsored the dance and decorated with Christmas trees, decorative bulbs, trimmings and huge snowflakes christened the stage. The Senior class officers: President Danielle Hickman, Vice President Erin Rhodes, Secretary Emily Bowman and Treasurer Logan Osekowski sang parodies to the tunes of "Walking in a Winter Wonderland" and a variety of other Christmas time classics, to help promote students to come the dance. Many students went off afterwards to eat at Denny's and have "after parties" with a group of their friends. In all, everyone thought that the dance was a pine-scented success!

Hey, Jeff Stem -- define semi-formal! Jimmy Wilson and Jackie Skeweris share a dance, Jackie stated, "Jimmy is my really good friend and I enjoyed dancing with him!" Juliana Sheets, Jillian Kelly and Tatiana McCasky spend time together at the dance. Juliana and Tatiana both agreed, "It was fun to hang out with our friends!" Anthony Shrock and Britni Brenneman smile and say cheese for the camera. Anthony later stated that, "The dance was a lot of fun with Brit."

Megan Viar and Hannah Gnegy enjoy hanging out! Amberly Lewis and Elizabeth Kutchman pose for the camera as Amberly admires the lights in Elizabeth's hair. Melissa Ray and Casey Hughes both agreed that the Winter Wonderland was a success. Dustin Hoffman and Alyssa Dick enjoyed the dance and just hanging out. Cody Colaw, Ivan Stutzman and Drew Taylor wonder where their dates went. Ashley Rohrbaugh, Lauren Shue and Hannah Storey dazzle in their beautiful dresses.

Sheena Collins and Ashley Kahl stated, "We try not to miss any dances. It's a once in a lifetime thing. We are definitely going to miss it." Britni Brenneman concluded, "I had a lot of fun at Winter Homecoming with Anthony and my friends." She and Meghan Flinn had a great time dancing at Mardi Gras.

Elizabeth Ray stated, "Winter Homecoming was really fun and I had a good time." Mark Sliger said, "Winter Homecoming was a lot of fun. I hung out with my girlfriend and friends." His girlfriend Melanie Dumine added, "The decorations were really nice." Brad Lilly said, "Winter Homecoming was a great chance to spend with my homies and have a great time just chillin'."

Winter Homecoming

Mardi Gras

Beads and Masks Take Partygoers to Bourbon Street

Staff Writer: Hollie McComas

Winter Homecoming, the third semiformal dance of the school year, is sponsored by the Student Council. The dance is intended to recognize the hard work and dedication of the winter sport athletes and coaches. This year took on the creative theme of Mardi Gras. Beads and masks were handed out to those who wanted them. Some people even brought their own masks -- bright, colorful, and sometimes even feathery. Corey Lewis and Danielle Daniels suggested the theme. The colors included purple, green, and gold. Mr. Leitzel's main concern about the dance was having a late date in March, but the weather held out and over 350 students attended. Since this is the only fundraiser that Student Council initiates, its members were pleased with the end results.

SHS offers many opportunities for students to create a strong foundation for their success. There are honors and AP classes as well as business, food service, and child care. The choices are endless. During mini-period, students can opt for study hall or, for the more adventurous, a specialty class. Every class and activity is an invitation to learn and grow.

Building an Artistic Future

Staff Writer: Ashley Roush & Jade Ream

"The Fine Arts program at Southern Garrett High School has few equals throughout the state of Maryland. When one looks at the accomplishments of our students in the areas of art, music, and drama, it is quite obvious that our school possesses extremely talented instructors and students. A major contributor to the overall success of the Fine Arts endeavor has been the Garrett Lake Arts Festival organization which contributes time and money to encourage appreciation of the arts by all of our students," explains Mr. Woods.

Ms. Ringler's class pursues a variety of skill-building exercises in the Art I class. Mrs. Pratt states, "I have wonderful classes this year. It still amazes me of the number of students we have that are gifted in visual arts."

Mrs. White, who teaches theatre, chose Little Shop of Horrors for her Theatre II project, hoping to give the advanced acting students a bit of a challenge. "The Theatre II class was the highlight of my year -- both their tremendous performance and their unforgettable trip to New York," claims Mrs. White.

Mr. Clever has been here for 39 years and he has nothing but praise for the chorus students this year. "The chorus has worked very hard this year. I am very pleased with their progress."

JAMES NAYLOR AND CHELSEA DAVIS

Chelsea Davis declares boldly, "Theatre is my passion, I really liked it and the whole experience was fun. Besides Mrs. White rocks." James Naylor states, "Theatre II was a blast. Remember New York and the tongue! It was a privilege working with Southern's most talented actors and actresses."

MRS. BATEMAN AND MR. CLEVER

Mr. Clever admits that this year's chorus has advanced far beyond expectations, and he declares, "My chorus classes have been wonderful this year." Mrs. Bateman says, "In all my years working with Southern High School chorus, this year has been one of the best. Working with several students and watching their level of talent increase has been enjoyable."

BOBBY BONSER

"Being part of the Theatre II play, Little Shop of Horrors, was an experience I will never forget. The teamwork and effort on everyone's part was what made it awesome! Through the experience of our play, and also the New York City trip, we all got to know each other very well. Our Theatre II class was not just a class, it was one big family."

BRYSON DIXON

As an Art II student, Bryson says, "Art's cool because we're focusing on self-identity and it helps me get to know myself better. Mrs. Pratt is a good teacher. I hope that she doesn't decide to retire before I graduate." Bryson enjoys art because it is a way to express feelings without having to explain himself.

EXPLORING THE ARTS

Art, music, and theatre classes form the heart of Southern's fine arts program. While some students' experience with the program is limited to the required arts credit needed, other students spend much of their spare time making arts classes part of their lives.

CLINTON KITZMILLER

"I like art because I have that class with my friend Steven Shrock." Clinton is also in Ms. Pratt's art classes and he finds art to fit his personality.

LACY LILLER AND AMANDA ASHBY

Lacy and Ashley are in chorus together. Amanda says, "I like chorus because I like to sing. And Lacy and I have a lot of fun." Lacy says, "I like chorus because I have fun singing and dancing."

RACHEL MCCASKY

"I like art because I enjoy being able to express my creativity."

ASHLEY BAKER

Ashley states, "I like chorus because we get to sing cool songs and Mr. Clever is very nice."

BILINGUAL BASH

Learning a foreign language can be a great experience. Although most students are drawn to the classes initially because colleges require them, students soon learn the joys of knowing a second language.

LOS DIAS DE LOS MUERTOS

"The best part about Spanish class is las fiestas," said Stephanie Abe who took Spanish for four years.

LA FETE NATIONALE

"French is one of my favorite classes. It is a lot of fun; Mr. Leitzel is a tres good teacher," stated Shar Hollingsworth, one of Mr. Lietzel's fourth year students.

DAS THEATER

"I really enjoyed being in German class, and the play we did was about Finding Nemo. I played Marlin, the dad, Bobby Bonser played the turtle, and Chelsea Larue played Dory," said Malchiah McPhail.

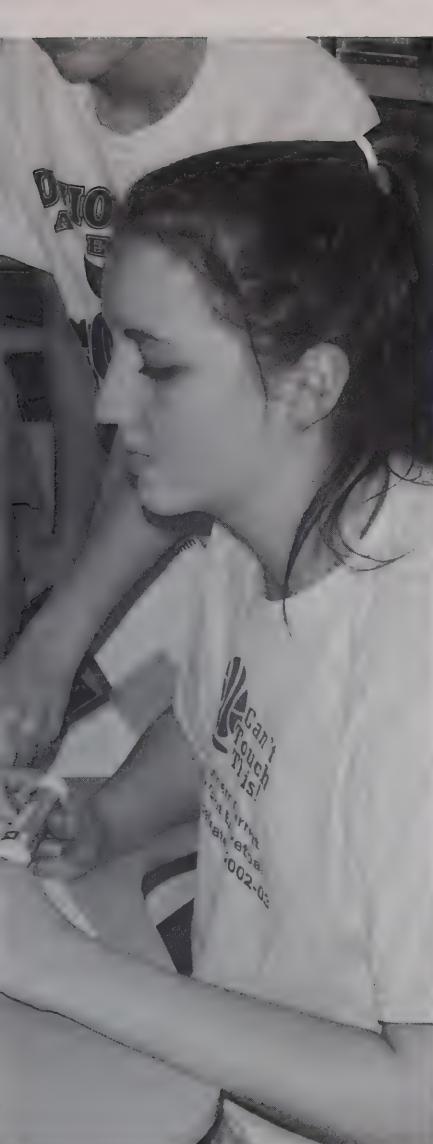

Senior Chuckie Burton shows off his English project on anger.

Brigette Lennox works on her project for English.

Elizabeth Thayer gets back to basics as she cuts and pastes her layout together for the newspaper.

Photographer Stephanie Brenneman scans pictures to place in the yearbook.

CULTURAL KALEIDOSCOPE

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Staff Writer: Amanda Proulx and Aasta Bowley

Both English and Foreign Language classes give students a chance to better understand the world around them.

Students are given a chance to learn about different cultures by taking one of three foreign languages offered at Southern. They can have a fiesta in Spanish, try crepes in French class, or have a fevte in German class. Students can become immersed in a world quite different from their own.

Most students are required to take two years of a foreign language course of their choosing. However, many opt to continue their foreign language experience and pursue a third and fourth year.

Another important class students are required to take is four years of English. Through English courses, students are able to learn more about their own culture and the writings that have shaped it.

Many students who enjoy writing also choose to take an elective of either yearbook or newspaper. Both classes give students the opportunity to work on important publications. Students who work on the Acorn, the web page, and the yearbook all have a sense of pride when they are able to view their completed project.

ENGLISH

Senior Patty Gallager works hard during Mr. Pratt's class to complete a project. For her project, Patty had to pick a word from a list and create a book that defined what that word means to her. To add emphasis to her project, she chose to paint the outside of her box. Bridget Stemple is working hard in order to finish her project.

SPANISH

Students in Mrs. Sweitzer's Spanish two class celebrate El Dia de los Muertos with a fiesta. During the celebration, many of the students were able to eat some hispanic foods and had fun pinning the sombrero on the skeleton.

YEARBOOK

In Mrs. White's Yearbook class, editor Sarah Anderson designs the page layouts that will form the backbone of the yearbook. Sarah has become a pro with the Adobe PageMaker program the staff uses. She will exit the course with many skills that can transfer into the work field.

THE ACORN

Acorn newspaper editor Danielle Hickman works on the layout for the November paper. The time spent on a layout is a crucial process in getting a neat and professional looking paper published.

CONQUERING the ELEMENTS ONE EQUATION AT A TIME

Staff Writer: Sue Pannell

The science students had the opportunity to participate in the Envirothon field trip, held at the 4-H Center. In addition to having fun on the trip, the participating students learned valuable information to help them in their science classes back at the school.

The teachers enjoyed the trip as well. Mrs. Jamison said, "We are really proud of our team this year because they improved over last year and came very close to winning the county competition. The material they are tested on covers soils, aquatics, wildlife, forestry, and a fifth issue that changes every year." This year, the fifth issue was Garrett County landscape.

In addition to the Envirothon, the science classes participate in the annual science fair. Students succeeding on the local level have the chance to move on to the state science fair. The science fair is organized annually by Mrs. Marks.

ON THE JOB

Cody Ferguson works hard in his math class. In fact, Cody works hard in all of his classes. Somehow he also has time to be one of the biggest fans of the athletic teams.

THINK HARD, MIKE

Mike Shaffer tries to concentrate in Ms. Lambert's class. "I think math is a lot of fun! I was struggling for a while, but now I think math is fun. I like working with numbers and learning new formulas."

WHAT A TEAM!

Trista Sines lends a helping hand to her friend Shane Weaver. Shane says, "Whenever I needed help with anything, Trista was always there for me to get me back on the right track!"

DON'T GUESS, BILL!

Bill Norton prepares for his last set of finals. Bill is ready to graduate, but he knows how important these last few tests are. Good luck, Bill!

ENVIROTHON

Envirothon is an extracurricular activity that gives students a chance to explore and appreciate nature. The students compete with others in the county in a battle of wits that challenges their knowledge in five categories.

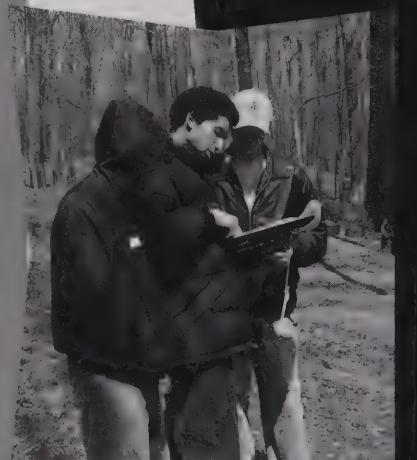

Ashley Walters and Patrick DiGioia stand with students from Northern, displaying their certificate of participation. Ashley stated, "Envirothon was a lot of fun."

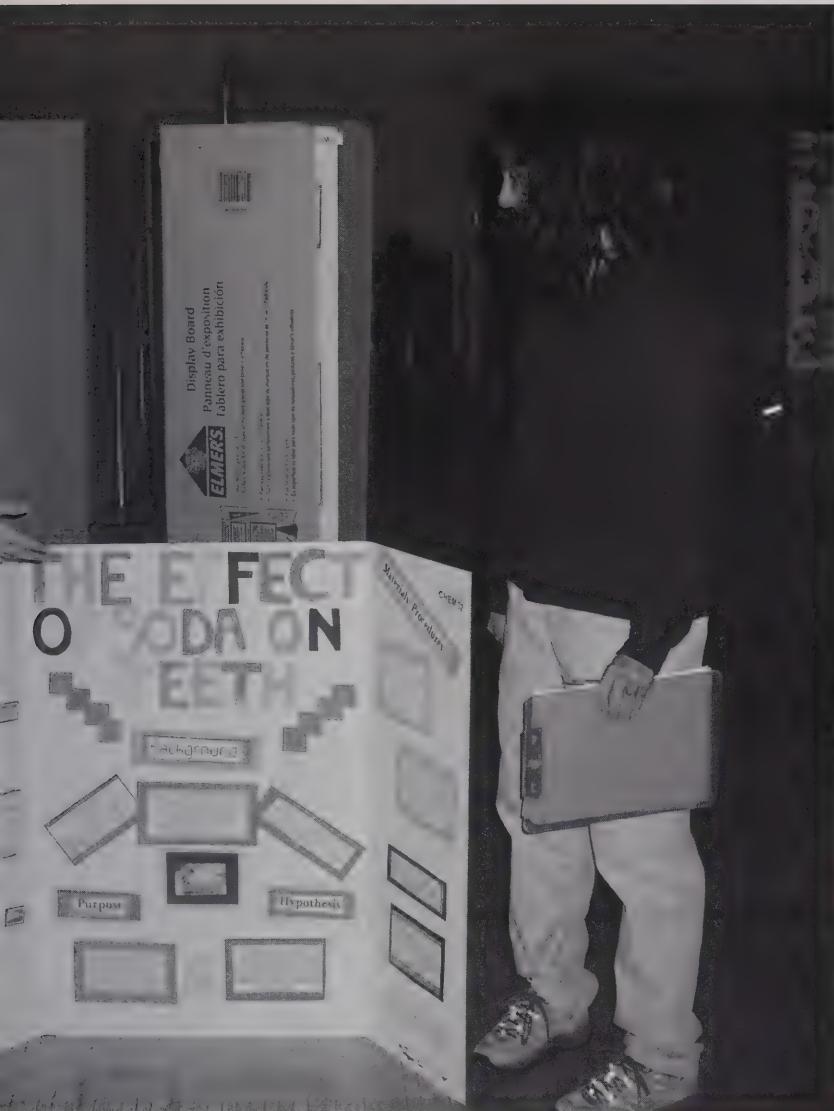

Seen here are some students from Northern learning about forestry. Patrick Digioia said, "Mixing the schools was a good idea. I met a lot of new people."

Students measure the height of trees as part of their preparation for the Envirothon competition.

Curtis Hamilton checks his work. Curtis stated, "I liked learning about soils, trees, and wildlife. I think that the fifth issue was the best."

Ms. Updyke stated, "This year with my earth science class, we made fossils out of playdough and seashells."

Mrs. Lambert advises, "A good angle to use to approach any problem is the try-angle."

Mr. Wolf says, "Persistance is the key to success -- not just in math but with everything."

Mr. Beeman shared, "I love to learn how the world around me works."

A TRIBUTE TO HISTORY DAY

Students participate in the Maryland National History Day. They worked very hard on their projects for the competition.

WE WENT ALL THE WAY...

Amber Plank, Melanie Dumire, and Adam Rexroad all did a documentary for their project. Melanie explains, "I had an interesting time making our documentary. We made it to the states, which was a definite challenge. We didn't place at the state level, but all in all it was really fun!"

THREES A CROWD...

Sarah Stephens, Meghan Flinn, and Adrienne Yoder also did a documentary. Sarah Stephens described how she felt at the competition, "It was an experience, but all together we had a lot of fun, we got to meet new people, and even though we didn't win, we enjoyed it."

ALL TOGETHER IS BETTER...

Sarah Beckman, Heather Ashby, and Erica Glotfely all entered a project in the History Day Competition. Erica states, "I had a good time working on my documentary with my group. Although we didn't make it into the state level competition, we are all very proud of our work."

UP, UP AND AWAY...

"I enjoyed doing this project, very much. I had Mr. Biggs for this project," says Elizabeth Leeger. "I loved doing the Sputnik project because it gave me a chance to learn more about rockets. I like doing these types of projects because I like to build rockets. They fascinate me."

"I like the projects we do in social studies."
- Adam Rexroad

"I like the class because I get reasonably good grades." - David Sisler

"I like social studies because I get to learn about my ancestry." - Jessica Stotelmeyer

"I hate social studies, but I guess I have got to do it to graduate." - Sam Williams

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

SOCIAL STUDIES

The study of social studies, government, and world history have become increasingly more important these past decades. Because of the advancements in technology, the world has become more complex. It is imperative that we have a good knowledge of social studies, world history, government, economics, psychology, past and current events, etc. Without proper introduction and preparation for these areas, we may have well become lost in life's shuffle.

Staff Writer: Mandi McCleary

That is why a lot of students are participating in the Maryland National History Day. Students complete competitive projects that take a look into the key events of past generations. Such projects include Nazi Germany and Aeronautical Instruments.

SCOPING OUT THE NEWS

Ashley Walters participated in the Regional History Day competition. "This project was a lot of fun. I liked working with the newspaper staff and columns. I enjoy reading the newspaper daily, and so I thought that this would be a great project. Plus Mr. Bender said that if we do great on our project, and we place, we automatically get an A in the class."

NAZI GERMANY

Megan Viar, Rose Jackson, and Kelly Baker participated in the Maryland History Day competition. "It was a lot more interesting than I thought it would be. It also gave me an opportunity to see other projects," said Megan. Rose Jackson said, "It helped me with my public speaking skills. I also learned how propaganda was used to spread Nazi idealism to the masses in Germany." Kelly Baker also stated, "It was a great learning experience for future presentations."

CAN'T WE ALL JUST GET ALONG?

Hannah Gnagy and Jackie Skeweris entered a project in the Maryland History Day fair on the wars in America. Hannah Gnagy explains, "I liked doing this. It was a definite experience that I would love to do again. Jackie and I had a great time doing our project on the wars in America. It was a task but we pulled through, like best friends always do." The girls went to states but didn't place.

JOHN PIERCE

Ashley Rohrbaugh, Adam Van Bogelen, and Melissa Stewart pay give tribute to John Pierce, the man that built the first communications satellite. Melissa Stewart said, "It was a very tough project, but it was totally worth it in the end." Ashley Rohrbaugh, and Adam Van Bogelen both said, "It was a very good learning experience and we chose a great topic."

REACHING NEW HEIGHTS STAYING HEALTHY

Staff Writer:Bobby Bonser & Chelsea LaRue

Every high school student is required to take one semester of health and physical education. Gym includes learning many different types of sports ranging from basketball to whiffleball. But the focus of the course is not only sports; students also learn how the muscles in the body work.

The students have health two days a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays. In health, students learn the functions of muscles and bones in the body. Some students like physical education so much that they repeat the class several times.

Some students choose to take weightlifting after they have completed the physical education requirement. Many students take advantage of the weightlifting program at Southern because it's a fun class that gives students a break from book work.

Mr. Tom Bosley, who teaches physical education and health, stated: "The students have to have enthusiasm, purpose, trust, and team building. You have to be safe and have respect for yourself, your teachers, and the other students in the class."

PUMPING IRON

Kelly Taylor and Ashley Stuck are two students who took advantage of the weightlifting class. Kelly Taylor is spotting Ashley while she benches weights. When asked what they like about this class they both responded by saying, "We're the buffest girls in the school."

TYLER GRAHAM

Weightlifting is one of the classes you have the option of taking after you finish your mandatory year of gym and health. Tyler Graham states, "Hard work gets you arms like this."

DRIBBLE AND SHOOT

Anthony Shrock and Travis Nice are warming up. Before beginning the gym activities, students have 15 minutes of warm-ups, followed by daily running and weekly agilities.

BRYAN CORBY

"Gym is fun. It gives you a break out of the school day. Just a time to play and have a good time," states Bryan Corby. In gym class the students learn many different types of sports throughout the year. Basketball is a favorite among most of the students.

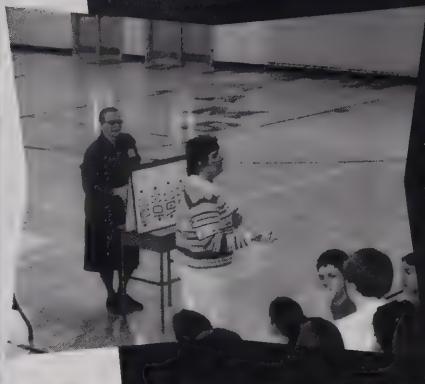

Swoosh! Jacob Bennett goes in for the layup during a basketball game.

One of the warm up agilities that the gym and health class must do are the "Hops."

Ready! Set! GO! Everyday the gym class performs basic warm-ups and sprints, pre-agility warm-ups are very important so that the gym class students do not pull muscles during agilities.

A HEALTHY FUTURE

In the health curriculum the students have to learn all about the bones in the body while listening to speakers and practicing with the full body skeleton.

A HEALTHY START

The speakers from the health department taught the health class how to eat healthy. The students in this class liked this presentation because they got to eat fruit.

FRUITS & VEGETABLES

In a workshop about fruits and vegetables, the health class learned that fruits and vegetables are the main start for the day! Aaron Gney stated, "I liked the fruit and vegetable workshop because I learned a lot about the healthy aspects of fruits and vegetables that I didn't know about."

WATCH AND LISTEN

Mr. Bosley's and Mrs. Gangler's health classes are listening to a speaker talk about the importance of stretching before you do a hard workout. John Wolfe stated, "I really liked that workshop because I never stretched before I worked out."

WHO WANTS MUSCLES?

The students in health class are looking at a presentation about how to use work on their muscles properly. They learned how to properly strengthen their muscles and work them out before they begin hard exercises.

LOVIN' THE ARTS

Students in practical arts classes agree that the classes are fun. Most students enjoy opportunities for hands-on learning versus traditional textbooks.

FARM LIVIN'

"I really enjoy agriculture! I grew up on a farm and so it's basically part of my life," stated Stephanie Brenneman.

MY COMPLIMENTS TO THE CHEF

Maliciah McPhail, who works in the foods room, says: "Foods is really fun; I like cooking and being able to serve the teachers and students when they come in for lunch."

FUTURE IN HEALTH

Lana Frank says, "Allied Health is a really great opportunity for my career choice. It lets me see the real health care environment."

TAKING CARE OF KIDS

"I really enjoy the Child Care classes. I love working with kids and am planning on having a career working with children, so Child Care was a obvious choice for my classes," said Kenzie Craig.

Beth Stem plays with one of the kids from the child care classes.

Mrs. Shipe and Lauren Jolles look over a menu for the foods room.

Brandon Custer and Jessica Arnold are working hard in Machine Tool.

GETTIN' READY FOR THE FUTURE

Staff Writer: Emily Smith and Kenzie Craig

The Practical Arts offered at SHS consist of four exciting classes: Foods, Child Care, Agriculture, and Allied Health. During these classes students learn through hands-on experience and activities associated with their career pathways.

In the Foods classes the students basically learn how to run a restaurant. Chuckie Burton told us, "We learn recipe conversions, health requirements, cooking skills, and how to be servers in a restaurant. It's a good learning experience especially for those wanting to go on in a career with cooking or running a restaurant."

In agriculture classes, students learn how to plant and take care of plants, animals, and machinery. Horticulture students sell their projects to raise funds for the agriculture department.

In the Child Care classes the students are able to learn all about child development. The students do fun activities like they would with young children. They also have the opportunity to go out in the community and work in the day care centers.

The Allied Health students also have an opportunity to go out and work in their field of nursing. The students in this class learn about various techniques of nursing and working in a hospital environment.

All in all the students of the practical arts classes have great opportunities to work hard and learn techniques that will enable them to advance in their career choices.

NURTURIN' NATURE

When talking with Charise Tasker, she explained a little bit about Agriculture to us. "It is really fun. We plant flowers, care for them, and then the Ag department sells the flowers." Nichole Harvey also stated, "I also like the agriculture classes. I really enjoy planting the flowers and being able to watch the different stages of their life."

MOLDING YOUNG LIVES

Keisha Glotfelty plays Play-dough with some children at a local day care facility. "I love working with the kids. I really like the hands-on experience."

CARING FOR OTHERS

Ryann Friend stated that, "The Allied Health classes give me great opportunities. I love being able to work in the field with actual patients. It will really help me in my career choice."

MMM, MMM, GOOD!

Bridget Stemple told us some of the good points of the foods classes. "It's just like running your own restaurant. We have to learn all the things incorporated in a real restaurant since we actually serve the people in the school."

BUILDING A FUTURE

WORKING HARD

Staff Writer: Erin Rhodes

The Industrial Arts students learn real world jobs in a high school classroom. Machine tool with Mr. Liller allows students to learn how to use some serious machinery. From using a lathe to a plasma cutter these students prepare themselves for real life occupations.

Mr. Bowser's carpentry class learns more than just the logistics of building. They actually put what they learn in books to use by building a house during class hours. Mr. Bowser mentioned that these skills can be used as a career or, "just to better [students'] living environments."

Masonry, taught by Mr. Bach covers mixing cement, forming blocks, and constructing walls.

We all know the value of having a running car. Mr. Powers teaches auto mechanics and assists teachers and students by using their cars as the "instructional vehicles." These students come out with a full knowledge of how a car works and how to fix problems.

Mr. Bowser explained, "These students have a wonderful opportunity to use a valuable skill for the rest of their lives." No matter what they choose, these laboring lads learn everything they need to get the job done right.

VROOM VROOM

Start your engines! In Mr. Powers' second period auto mechanics class students learn the basic concepts and parts of the heart of cars. David Dever and Nathan Stephens examine this car's engine in hopes of finding the problem. Nathan Stephens states, "Auto mechanics is an easy class and Mr. Powers is a good teacher."

LEARNING THE ROPES

Industrial Arts classes aren't all hands-on shop work. Just like all classes, bookwork is a necessity, along with tests and quizzes. Here, Kevin Maffett gets some help understanding his classwork from Mr. Bowser.

CONCENTRATING HARD

In Mr. Liller's machine tool class, Travis Riley and Derek Upperman watch Mr. Liller properly construct a welding table. This process took a couple of days. Travis Riley states, "Pretty much the only thing tough about this class is the many small measurements that we have to work with."

USING WHAT THEY'VE GOT

Amanda McCleary and Brandy Curry prepare for the Skills USA vocational competition by working on the roof of a house. The competition takes place at a regional and state level for vocations including nursing, carpentry, and masonry. Many students in the industrial arts classes take part in this activity.

LEARNING AS THEY GO

From lathes to engines, these handy men and women know how to build or fix anything from cars to houses. Their experiences will allow them to pursue career in various vocations.

Jimmy Tichinel is working on the roof of the house for carpentry.

Wes Steyer chills out on the porch of the carpentry house after some hard work.

Chris Miller works on a wall in masonry class.

Travis Sanders whips up the cement mix to paste the cement blocks together.

IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD

Although these manual labor jobs are stereotypically male, some girls, like Brandy Curry, can handle a saw as well as any man in the carpentry shop. Brandy and her twin Mandy both have Mr. Bowser's class this semester.

BLOCK BY BLOCK

Ryan Heselbach practices block laying in Mr. Bach's second period masonry class. Their skills can lead to a profitable career following graduation.

SKILLS USA

The Skills USA competition takes girls like Jenna Summerville to a competition where they work to best other groups in efficiency and performance in various vocations.

SOME KIND OF DRILLING

Andy Uphold has machine tool with Mr. Liller. Here, Andy uses the drill press to seriously tear up some steel.

TEAM F.I.R.S.T.

Members of the aptly named F.I.R.S.T. team come from both ends of the county. They have worked with Mr. Chuck Trautwein and other coaches to construct a functional robot. The team has taken their robot to competition.

THE WAIT

The robotics team stands in the waiting area behind the pit where the competition is being held. Before they begin to go in the pit, and they are encouraged by a pep talk from their team captain.

THE TEAM

Coach Chuck Trautwein, Mitch Hall, Philip Adams, Zack Brosnihan, James Mullenax, Frank Sharp, Josh Hinebaugh, Rich Louis, Eric Wood, Zack Trautwein, Chris Wood, Titus Bietzel, Jed Crawford, Stephanie Lee, and Sarah Storck make up the robotics team.

THE COMPETITION

The robotics team scopes out some of their competition before the games begin.

THE PRIDE

Students in the I-Tech program are working on an assignment for the class.

We didn't catch Daniel Frederick playing solitaire this time, but it is only a matter of time.

Chad Bean rearranges some wires in a n I-Tech modem.

The robotics team waits in anticipation hoping the judges will be impressed.

TECHNO-WIZARDS FUN OF THE FUTURE

Staff Writer:Susanna Pannell & Chelsea LaRue

Technology is becoming a very demanding field of work, and students are beginning to realize this. The technology program, including business and drafting classes, teach students much about the career they will be pursuing outside of the classroom.

The I-Tech program and its joint internship is offered through Garrett College. Students who chose to take this course can learn more about repairing computers. Mr. Cosner, the electronics teacher, has been working hard this year with new programs and equipment. He says his students are very successful.

A new addition to the technology program is the robotics team, Team F.I.R.S.T. The robotics teams makes robots from a kit of parts. They are given a certain objective for the robot. This year the students had to get the robot to raise an object ten feet. They also had fun with the robots while playing tic-tac-toe!

The students in the robotics class all feel like it has given them an new experience to enjoy. F.I.R.S.T. team member Stephanie Lee says that her favorite part is "being able to work with the students from Northern because [she] would not have met them otherwise."

Students also have the choice of taking word processing and web design classes. In these classes students can get the basics on how to manipulate spreadsheets and other templates or how to design their own websites.

DESIGNING THE WEBSITE

Krissy Ashby and Aaron Louden have Mrs. Zumpano for web design. They like to work together and help one another out. Krissy says, "I'm glad that I took this class. I've learned a lot about my creative side." Aaron says, "I'm glad I took this class because it is a lot of fun."

LEARNING THE KEYS

Chris Kelly states, "I really like the I-Tech program because after I get out of high school, I would like to start a career in computer programming." In the I-Tech program the students leave a half day and go to the college and learn how to fix and program computers.

STARTING FROM SCRATCH

Taira Oliver is learning how to create a web page. When asked what she likes about the class she says, "I like the teacher, and I like the fact that I can put a whole new web page together from scratch."

COMING IN CLUELESS

Chad Bean, another of Mrs. Zumpano's students, also enjoys doing the I-Tech program. "When I came into this class, I was clueless as to how to even turn a computer on. As I continued my classes here I have learned a lot about computers. I want to have a career in the computer industry."

MINI-PERIOD WORK IN PROGRESS

Staff Writer: Jelissa Jones

Mini-Period was initially started to assist students that need extra help to pass the High School Assessment. Mini-Period currently offers many options, including Freshman Seminar, Best Buddies, Study Hall, and a Christian Club.

Freshman seminar helps new students become acclimated to the expectations of high school.

Most students long for the mini-period days, when the other classes are shortened to accommodate the extra period. Mini-period is also a good time for students to get caught upon homework, which gives them more time for extracurricular activities.

Class officers discuss ways to improve the school and the Prom committee plans decorations and fund-raisers during this time. Amber Everett and Nicole Getz work hard as members of the Prom committee.

Mini-period was also used to create the school's first literary magazine. Whether a student is placed in a mini-period to improve his grades or chooses a class to learn a new skill, mini-period gives him a chance to improve outside of the regular classroom.

LET'S GET OUR GROOVE ON!

Students who work on the Prom committee endeavor to create a memorable Prom on a limited budget. Emily Smith and Kirstin Brashear enjoy serving as members of this club. Emily Smith states that, "I like to be involved in picking the invitations and decorations." Kirstin Brashear says, "I enjoy this class because it's fun and I get the opportunity to be involved in my school's activities."

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT

Spirit Club mini-period is a place where students get together and make signs and support their school teams. A member of the Spirit Club, David Goldsborough, has attended all year. David enjoys this club because, "It's easy and Mr. Biggs is an awesome teacher."

WORK BEFORE PLAY

Not many people would choose to be in a study hall, but for Katie Marks, it's a big time-saver. Katie plays softball, but she always puts her schoolwork first. "This class helps me get all of my homework done, especially around the softball season. Also, the time that I would have worked on my homework, I can spend with my boyfriend."

SKILLS USA

This mini-period provides the basic skills the students need to get out into their chosen field of work. The club competes against other schools in Maryland. Amanda McCleary, Sondra Sharpless, Susanna Pannell, Ashley Keener, and Chelsea LaRue are members of this team. Amanda is the club's president this semester. She states, "The class is great because it will prepare me for the real world. I am in the child care field and I love competition."

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS

Mini-period was established in 2003 as a way to incorporate time for remediation, study hall, and enhancement activities into the school day. Mini-periods meet every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday for forty minutes. Although some students are assigned to a particular mini-period, most students get to choose the class they will most enjoy.

PINK LIPSTICK...

This club, under the direction of Mrs. Elliot, is raising the level of awareness for breast cancer research. Ashley Metcalfe, Shannon Davis, Mrs. Elliot, and Bailey Michaels are the four members who make it happen.

FRESHMEN RULE

Freshman seminar familiarizes new students with the layout and policies of the school. It also helps them deal with pressures in high school situations. In Mrs. Gibson's seminar class, student Nick Tressler states, "I learned to respect people, even when they don't respect me."

HERE'S YOUR SIGN

American Sign Language is another great club in the mini-period schedule. The students enjoy holding conversations using only ASL. Ashley Hardesty and Erin Browning really enjoy the class. Ashley states, "It's a lot of fun, and Mrs. White is a great teacher."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student council is an extremely important class for students in leadership positions. Elizabeth Thayer, a member of the student council says, "Student Council is a lot of fun because I love arguing with Mr. Woods. Our trips down state are great too, because we get to meet lots of cute boys."

Daniel Skipper is in stage band. He claims that it is fun because they play various types of music.

Bryan Crocco enjoys Mrs. Spiker's book evaluation mini-period. "I like this class because it's fun," Bryan says.

Esther Sharpless is a member of the Christian Club. "We have lessons and do concerts. It's a lot of fun."

Lana Frank enjoys being in service learning because she needs to get as many hours as she can.

ROCKIN' IN THE STREETS

As Garrett County grows in population, it also grows in the arts. The Garrett Lakes Art Festival, along with the town of Oakland have been showcasing local bands as an attraction to the teens living around the area. This has become a wonderful opportunity for teens to display their talent.

VULGAR YOUTH

Speed Stick Steve plays the drums, Bad Brendan plays the guitar, Malicious Metal Mike plays the guitar and The Prophet plays bass. Vulgar Youth are from the Symmetrical Galaxy. They intended to fight the good fight in the name of Rock n Roll. "As sure as we are sure in sureness that the number three is lucky, we ensure that Vulgar Youth will rock your socks off, kind of like a fox." Vulgar Youth is the love child of Motley Crue, Slayer and Right Said Fred and their lyrics were inspired by the Koran and the OJ Simpson Trial.

HETEROCHROMIA

Heterochromia's members are Ryan Crocco, Christopher Tepper, Joe Albert, Travis Hensley, and Jeremy Morton. Jeremy is an extremely talented metal singer. He is also a member of Dead Bury Dead. Ryan and Joe are two awesome guitar players. They provoke the audience to get onto their feet and they maintain the perfect harmony. Travis inspires the flow, and also writes a lot of lyrics. Christopher has a real passion for the drums, and he is sometimes critized about how seriously he takes playing. Nothing prevents him from going onto the stage and pounding out killer beats. Heterochromia dictates, "If we don't work out as a band, we want to go on as friends and not as x-band members. We will never forget the great times that we have had together and the lessons that we have learned."

SHADES OF BLACK

Shades of Black began in the summer of 2004. With Southern High School graduate Andrew Hill on drums, senior Jamie Peterson on guitar, sophomore Zach Harkins on guitar, and Southern High School graduate John Armstrong singing. Together, they create a style that has many variations. They are influenced by punk and hardcore. They currently have a good number of shows planned for the summer.

Mariah Hines and Amber Sachs assisted the marching band by performing a skit during the field show.

Hannah Stahl and Donald Cross also acted as field show participants.

BREAKING THE SOUND BARRIER

Staff Writer: Jade Ream

The Southern High School Marching Band had an exceptionally good season and performed Pirates of the Caribbean as their field show. In fact, the show was so splendidly performed that the marching band had the privilege of competing at the Tournament of the Bands Atlantic Coast Championship. The state competition also received a first place victory in Group I.

The concert band season also went extremely well this year. The color guard also finished with a monumental performance, for which they received a nearly perfect score from the judges.

Mr. Clever is very pleased with the scores and progress made during the run of the season. He declares, "This year is a phenomenal year, and we accomplished almost all the goals we set out to. We won eight straight shows including a state championship, a chapter championship, and we placed fifteenth in the Tournament of Bands Atlantic Coast Championship. This year's band season has undoubtedly been one of the most outstanding."

DANIEL FREDERICK

"Band has been the greatest experience in my high school career; not only has it been fun, but it taught me perserverance, dedication, and endurance."

BRIAN GEORG

Brian has been in band for two years, each of which he has performed in the drumline. This year he plays the tenor (quints). Brian says, "I like playing the drums and am very interested in joining a drumcore in the future."

BILLY GEORG

Billy has been involved in band for all four years and is the student director. "During my four years of band I have met many new people and have went many places. I will carry these experiences for the rest of my life. As I move on to study music at Towson University, I know that I will be well prepared thanks to my experiences in band."

ANDREA DALE

Andrea played the clarinet for two years in band and made assistant drum major in her junior year. Andrea says, "Being in band has let me be me and I have been able to meet many new people."

STUDENTS REACH OUT TO OTHERS

Staff Writer: Stephanie Brenneman

At Southern High we have two great programs that encourage students to reach out to others.

Peer Counseling allows students to talk to their peers about their dilemmas. Whether large or small, every problem is important to the student counselors. They help out with crises between groups of friends, couples, and students and parents. All that is required to meet with a peer counselor is a simple form that can be completed in the guidance office. This year the counselors went to Peer Counseling Convention in Ocean City, Maryland. They attended seminars to polish their counseling skills.

Southern is also glad to have a Best Buddies chapter. The students who participate in Best Buddies meet with their buddies during mini-period. They also do many out-of-school activities. They bake, play kickball, take trips to the zoo, and construct scrapbooks. Students and their buddies form friendships for life. They are supervised by Mr. Plum and Ms. Raybold, who was a new addition to the chapter this year.

COURTNEY DISIMONE

"I think Peer Counseling is a great program within the school because it allows students to feel comfortable about expressing their problems to other students who they can relate to."

STACY FRIEND

"Peer counseling makes me feel like I have truly accomplished something by helping out the students of our school. The skills that I have learned in our seminars are skills that I can use in any career."

ERIN RHODES

"Peer counseling is a great way to support the students of the school. Peer counseling is a lot of fun getting to know some amazing people and learning how to help people deal with the traumas of life."

GREG BECKMAN

"I feel that it is everybody's duty to help out their friends and neighbors. Ocean City was a great experience that I will always remember; it taught me new skills that I use daily."

BEST BUDDIES

In a partnership like those formed in Best Buddies, a student learns to love and appreciate others. Participating students have no problem finding common ground, leaving differences behind.

EMILY AND JESSICA

"Jessica Welch and I love to do things together, such as make cookies, go to Wal-Mart, and check out boys," said Emily Bowman.

CHRISTMAS AUCTION

Ms. Raybold and Amanda Holstine keep the money handy just in case something comes along that catches Amanda's eye.

SHAR AND JACKIE

"I really like hanging out with Jackie Stillwagon. She's a lot of fun. We always talk about her boyfriends," says Shar Hollingsworth.

Leah Warnick helps Amanda Holstine and Carrie Kisner make cookies.

Brandon Guthrie places his bid at the Best Buddies auction.

Debra Petershjem and Ms. Deb Friend wait to taste the end product after making cookies.

Kickball is one of the many activities that take place in Best Buddies.

ZACH HARPOLE

"Me and Brandon and Zach share magazines. They are really into hot rods and that sort of thing. They also like to check out the girls," stated Jimmy Hinebaugh.

BLOODMOBILE

Student Council sponsored the two annual blood drives this year. The first took place in the fall semester on October 29 and the second was on April 21. Each time over 35 pints of blood were collected from staff and students at SHS! Thank you, donors!

WE WANT YOUR BLOOD!

The nurse tries to be gentle as she sticks the needle into the helpless patient's arm. Coach Gregg, are you afraid of needles?

SIGNING UP

Student Council members help run the blood drive by acting as greeters, walkers, and canteen operators. Meghan Flinn helps to sign the donors up and gets them prepared to give blood.

THE CANTEEN

When donors are finished giving blood, they are taken for a short walk to get their blood recirculating and help them calm down. After they walk they are offered a small snack to keep them from passing out.

HELPING OUT

Drew Taylor helps the blood collectors by bringing them the bags. It's a regular blood bank by the end of the day.

James Naylor and Ivan Stutzman play with their inflatable farm animals!

On Thursday night at the convention everyone gets dressed up for a formal dinner party.

Hangin' out by the pool, the Council takes a break from all of their classes to enjoy the water!

BUILDING SKILLS: LEADERSHIP

The students of Southern High School are laying a foundation for leadership skills. Many of the students at SHS are actively involved in Student Council and National Honor Society. While participating in these activities, students learn important life skills such as teamwork and strengthening character. Courtney DiSimone states, "National Honor Society keeps me motivated to keep my grades up and do well in school!"

This year Student Council was responsible for organizing two blood drives, the fall Halloween Dance, and the Winter Sports Homecoming Dance. Members of Student Council attended several state-wide legislative sessions, including the MASC convention in Ocean City, Maryland. National Honor Society sponsored the can food drive to collect food for the needy and homeless. NHS also participated in the Adopt-a-Highway program, picking up trash along the highways.

"Student Council and National Honor Society help students learn the value of giving back to others and to the community," states Hannah Watkins.

THE LEADERS OF SHS

Student Council Treasurer Andrew Goad; President Shar Hollingsworth; Vice President Corey Lewis; Secretary Elizabeth Thayer. Corey Lewis was chosen as the Student Representative to the Board of Education for the 2005-06 school year.

JUNIOR REPRESENTATIVES

Ivan Stutzman, Katie Conroy, Brett Dugan, Taylor Crabtree, and Drew Taylor. Katie Conroy was elected Vice President for the upcoming school year.

SENIOR REPRESENTATIVES

Ashley Stuck, Jadyn Swerbinsky, Corey Tressler, Megan Swartzentruber, and Stephanie Brenneman. Jadyn is also the President of the Garrett County Association of Student Councils.

FRESHMAN REPRESENTATIVES

Sarah Storck, Meredith Pagenhardt, Joe Bever, Julie Swerbinsky, and Philip Adams. The freshmen serve as members of the various student council committees such as: publicity, refreshments, and court representatives.

THE ROAD AHEAD STUDENT DRIVERS

Staff Writer:Aasta Bowley & Emily Green

Look both ways, make a complete stop at stop signs, signal, and always yield the right-of-way, does that sound familiar?

For many students, this is their distinct memory of learning to drive. Despite reservations and the fear of getting behind the wheel for the first time, learning to drive is one of the most exciting events to experience while in high school.

A license must be earned and does not come without a little work. First, a student must take a drivers education program, obtain a learner's permit, and then complete a total of 40 on-the-road driving hours.

For students, Drivers Education is offered through the high school. Students enrolled in this class receive a crash course in Driving 101 from Mr. Heatherman and Mr. Hinebaugh.

After completing all requirements and passing the MVA's driving test, the real fun can begin. Buying a car, paying insurance, and paying for overpriced gas are just a few strings that are tied to getting a license.

"When I get time, I love to drive on the back roads of Garrett County," commented Mr. Beeman. "It is a great release from everyday life."

Beeman enjoys driving his 1975 Harley Davidson Sportster 1000, but for now students can just stick to learning to drive cars.

"My truck is 4x4, dependable on the farm, and in winter I don't have to park it like rice burner cars," stated Nathan Sines about his 2000 Chevy Silverado.

Bret DeWitt commented that he enjoys cruising in his 1996 Ford Windstar. "I can literally haul all my friends anywhere we need to go."

Melissa Rohrbaugh drives a 2003 White Dodge Stratus to school everyday. She commented, "I like it because it has a sun roof and drives nice."

Kalie Hostulter stated her favorite feature of her 1997 Talon is its sparkly orange color. "I picked orange because it was different." She recently put a new body kit on the car and installed a new system.

ANTICIPATION

For those less fortunate underclassmen, driving is out of reach until they are old enough to get their licenses. Until that day comes, students are forced to wait patiently and enjoy those long trips home via the cheesewagon.

RETT RHODES

"I want my license so I don't have to ride my bus. It will allow me to go places without inconveniencing my parents."

JENNIFER VONHAGEL

"I want my license so I have complete freedom and no more mom bossing me around."

BROOKE BOWERS

"The biggest thing I am looking forward to when I get my license is being able to see my boyfriend more."

TIMOTHY REAMS

"I want to drive so my parents don't have to take me anywhere, and I will have more freedom."

Ashley Rohrbaugh is demonstrating how to use the driving simulator. Simulators provide a safe practice before students advance to the Drivers Ed car.

Doug Kisner prepares to pull out of the parking lot in the Drivers Ed car after taking time to complete his predriving checks.

As the seniors walk the halls in their last year of high school, memories from all four years come flooding back: of freshman year when we first walked through the door to the day that Mr. Woods says, "Congratulations to the class of 2005! Dear Southern Garrett High School Graduates,

The day has finally arrived! By now you have experienced the end result of a lifetime of hard work. You are a high school graduate! Please accept my sincere congratulations on being a member of Southern Garrett High School's fifty-third graduating class. Beginning with kindergarten some thirteen years ago, you set your goals to become a part of a special group of individuals who enjoy a high school diploma. With the assistance of family, friends, and teachers you have earned a status that will allow you the opportunity to navigate through life with limitless possibilities.

During your four years as an SGHS student you have witnessed many events that will forever be etched among your memories. The tragedy of December 26, 2004 and the three hundred thousand lives lost to the earthquake and tsunami of Southeast Asia will never be forgotten. Together we worked as a school to raise over twenty-five hundred dollars to send to the devastated area. We watched as our nation once again engaged in the overthrow of one of the world's most savage dictatorships. Each of us has been touched by the knowledge of knowing someone directly involved in the fight to set up a democratic government for the millions of Iraqis who suffered under Saddam Hussein. Once again our nation suffered through the sadness associated with losing seven brave astronauts as the space shuttle Columbia disintegrated upon re-entry into the earth's atmosphere on February 1, 2003. That tragic event drove home the frailty with which each of us lives and the need to live each day to its fullest extent.

Fortunately for each of us, we have been a part of a special four years while working together at SGHS. The friends made and the lessons learned will serve us for decades to come. The many teachers that you have had the privilege to know have prepared you well. They have worked endless hours to ensure that you are ready for a lifetime of success. Whether your next year takes you to higher education, military experiences, or a job based on your vocational training, Southern Garrett High School has endeavored to make the transition one of confidence.

Your future is as promising as any student could possibly desire. It has been my sincere privilege to play a small role in your development. All of us at SGHS will watch with special interest as you become the next great doctors, lawyers, engineers, teachers, parents and most importantly citizens. Our greatest pleasure is reveling in your accomplishments knowing that we each provided a foundation for your success. Always remember --- you are the best!

Prom was held at the Elks Lodge on April 30, 2005, the theme being, "Beautiful Night." The senior class selected Danielle Hickman, Anna Lucas, Krista Hanline, and Jasmine Scheffel as Prom court princesses, with Logan Osekowski, Dustin Hoffman, Aaron Louden, and Cory Bosley as their escorts. Shar Hollingsworth was voted Prom Queen and the student body selected Brad Reese as King. Prom souveniers included memory books and memento glasses. A special video was created for Brian Sharpless who could not attend his last Prom. This special evening was a perfect step towards the end of the year and for many the end of their high school experience.

Friends sit and enjoy the 2005 Prom at one of the beautifully decorated tables.

"I got to tango with Shar," stated Raymond Tichinel, "it was a lot of fun."

"Prom was a lot of fun. It was exciting to see all my friends dressed up and everyone was beautiful," said Emily Green.

What are Anna Lucas and Kenny Marks doing? We're not really sure either.

Nikita Lopez, Courtney DiSimone, Katie Nichols, Kelly Taylor, and Katie Conroy take a break from dancing to smile for the cameras.

Lauren Jolles and Steven Kitzmiller enjoy themselves while dancing. "My favorite memory of the night was dancing with Steve," said Lauren Jolles. "We had a blast."

"The most fun was dancing with the new friends I've made since I've been here," said Kassie Livengood, pictured with Taylor Riley.

"Thank God it's finally over!" Michael Schmidl said, as he prepared to take the long walk with his 186 classmates. "I never thought it would happen and I know if I can do it - anyone can." Michael's laugh fades away as he recalls, "I'm going to miss seeing everyone, and it will be kind of depressing driving by the school and knowing I don't go here anymore, but I am happy I made through!" Many seniors said they'd miss their friends and teachers: "I'm going to miss all my friends and Ms. Spiker. She was always such a nice and great teacher," said Brandy Curry. Andrew Goad left the class with good advice: "Your success starts in your everyday routine. Every decision that you will ever make will have an impact on some aspect of your life. So decide wisely."

Ashley Stuck, Bethany Steyer, and Shar Hollingsworth enjoy their graduation day.

Sarah Bittinger makes her way to the field to the tune of Pomp and Circumstance.

Valedictorian Daniel Frederick reminded the class: "Southern has opened doors to you, but it is up to you to step through and decide what you are going to do with your life."

"Sea You At Sunrise," the theme for the 14th annual After Prom, held many exciting activities and prizes. Kids at the After Prom had the privilege to see fun and entertaining acts such as James Naylor and Bobby Bonser stripping to "I'm Too Sexy," and Evan Lantz and Joey Tressler grinding with a balloon in between them. Lantz commented, "Joey is a magnificent dancer; together our bodies glide across the dance floor like majestic swans."

Everyone also got to enjoy making crafts, winning prizes, and racing on the toilet seats, which was a very popular activity. As seniors find themselves closer to graduation, they will always have the memories of their last After Prom.

Megan Viar, Chelsea Davis, and Stephanie Abe spend After Prom together.

Nathan Sines, Daniel Carr, Kelly Taylor, and Scott Wildesen take it easy and play some foosball in the gym. Carr said, "I had fun, but it got boring at times."

Many kids enjoyed making crafts such as picture frames and specialty items. Kenny Marks looks like he is having a good time.

Seniors Josh McKenzie, Brad Jilly, Ricky McCartney, and Jacob Bennett take a break during After Prom. They had the chance to watch a Prom slide show in the cafeteria. Nathan Harris and Melinda Smith spend time together and play checkers. Both said they had a great time, but they are still bare debating over who had won. Sara Beckman, Katelyn Gnegy, Ashley Biser, and Amelia Railiff perform a music video. Railiff says, "Music videos were the best part because you got to act crazy."

Many students enjoyed either participating in or watching the dancing with balloons on the stage. Evan Lantz and Joey Tressler didn't win the contest, both had fun. Tressler states, "I had a wonderful time with Evan. He is the best."

Christina Wolfe takes part in the prize booth, hoping to win something fun. Prizes that evening included movies, T-shirts, and beach items.

I liked going to After Prom and playing with the giant beach balls.

*Do not stand at my grave and forever weep.
I am not there; I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow.
I am the diamond glints on the snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.
I am the gentle autumn's rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush
I am the swift uplifting rush
Of quiet birds in circled flight.
I am the soft stars that shine at night.
Do not stand at my grave and forever cry.
I am not there. I did not die.*

The talent and determination found in the varsity football team were key factors in this season's winnings. Although the Rams landed a two and eight record, the intensity of the games were enough to prove their skill. Recollecting the season, Matthew Davis stated, "Our best game was against Allegany. We played our hearts out and only lost by four." The JV team had one of the most successful seasons in the history of SHS, finishing with a 7-1-1 record. Hopefully these talented players will return and lead the team to victory next season.

Southern boys soccer is defined by determination. Although they experienced minor setbacks and tough losses, they continually believe that they are better than any other team.

What the team lacks in experience and size it makes up for in skill, heart, and desire for success. Coach Bob Bonser constantly says, "We are working towards excellence." No matter what the score, the team refused to give in.

This mentality led to several triumphant victories. The team ended the season with double the wins of the previous year. Boys soccer continues to build and develop into a better team every year and shows hope for a very promising future.

Girls Break Through a Rebuilding Year

Staff Writers: Stephanie Brenneman & Bobby Bonser

The girls varsity soccer team has experienced both trials and tribulations this season. "I believe this year was a rebuilding year," stated Ashley Rohrbaugh. Ron Petrella and Sara Nawrot returned to coach the team, which was led by six seniors: Erin Rhodes, Jadyn Swerbinsky, Shar Hollingsworth, Jasmine Scheffel, Sarah Anderson, and Nikita Lopez. The team came together to reach new goals: "We all learned to trust each other on and off the field," said Jessica Petrella. The season's most memorable moment was, most players agree, the Bishop Walsh game. "We beat them for the first time on their own field! And it was a shutout!" boasted Petrella.

A Record Breaking Season

Staff Writer: Sarah Bittinger

At the end of the season Erica Pratt said, "Volleyball went further this year than it ever has before."

During the Frankfort game Beth Steyer set Randi Bennett, who delivered a hard spike to end the third game.

Sarah Bittinger said, "My favorite memory has to be when our fans stormed the court after we beat Smithsburg."

Sarah Stephens said, "The seniors were great and I'm looking forward to another great season next year."

This was truly an unforgettable season with stat-climbing, playoff-making, and record-breaking talent. This year's team of 13 was the strongest to come through Southern. The girls showed how competitive and exciting volleyball really is.

Coach Sue Newton says, "In my 19 years of coaching, this was truly the most fun. Every player on the team contributed one hundred percent and we played as a team all year." This proved to be true as the Lady Rams worked hard to obtain an almost perfect regular season record and a first place finish at the Frankfort Tournament.

No game went without a loud, enthusiastic student section. Hopefully having a crowd will become a tradition along with a winning volleyball team.

It's a golfer's dream come true -- a chance to spend a day with Tiger Woods. And it's an experience Jed Crawford can add to his list of great golfing moments. Jed met Tiger for a private golf lesson in San Diego, California with a little help from the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Western Maryland. When he's not rubbing shoulders with golfing greats, Jed can be found on the green with the rest of Southern's golf team.

The golf team is under the direction of Coach Dave Martin and Alan Skidmore, carried a successful season, ending with an 11-1 record. At the WMIL competition, Matt Skidmore placed first and Josh Lear placed second, while the team placed first overall.

Out of the many individuals and teams that were at the Regional Tournament, Skidmore placed fourth and Lear placed ninth. Although the team did not make it to the State Championship this year, Skidmore and Lear did. Matt placed fifth in state, but Josh did not qualify for the second match.

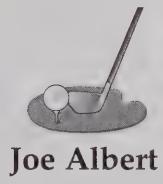

These two talented seniors will be leaving the golf team as their high school days come to an end. Ivan Stutzman remains positive in spite of the loss of two key players: "I still believe that next year's golf team will be strong and accomplish many team goals."

Cross Country is mostly a mental sport. Athletes must have the determination to run and the confidence to do it well. All of the boys and girls on the team had what it takes to succeed. They went through very tiring practices of hills, mile repeats, and 75-minute runs. A young girls team did very well this season. They placed third in the Area, second in WMIL, fourth in the Region, and sixth in the State. Their favorite practice was playing follow the leader during Indian Runs. Captain Elizabeth Thayer stated, "Even though we weren't recognized for qualifying for states, I am very proud that the girls still have the determination to continue running." The boys team placed third in the Area, second in WMIL, fourth in the Region, and seventh in the State. Overall, both team had very successful seasons.

The Southern JV and Varsity cheerleaders had a great year. Over the summer they attended Cheerleading Camp at Deep Creek Lake. There they learned new chants, cheers, and builds for the upcoming season. They also bonded with each other and formed tremendous friendships. After camp they held numerous practices to perfect the new material they had learned.

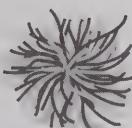

"This past year was unquestionably our most rewarding! The squad consisted of what has to have been the nicest group of young people that we have ever had assembled together as a unit," says advisor Mr. Biggs. "We will also miss our only graduating senior, Krissy Ashby. She has been a real asset to our group these past four years."

Ashley Biser

"Cheerleading was a really great experience and was a lot of fun," says Ashley Biser about her second year on varsity.

Amanda Griffin

"My first year on the varsity squad was hard work, but it really does pay off," quoted Amanda Griffin.

Anet Dishmon said that, "The most fun part about cheerleading is camp because you get to dress up crazy."

Jeff is a dominant force on the mat. He wrestles at 152 and always shows complete determination against his opponents.

Daniel at 125 has enjoyed major accomplishments. He says that even just placing at states would be a great honor.

Wrestling at 135, Justin is a team asset. Only a tenth grader, wrestling fans are sure to see more out of Justin.

"We win and lose the same. We do it with sportsmanship," says Daniel Carr. This year's wrestling team may have been one of the strongest in Southern's history. They are the first team to have completed a perfect match, with everyone winning and finishing with a score of 84-0.

Once again the team defeated Northern in both of their dual meets. Being serious was a major part of the team's strategy.

"Every night we have 'story time,' Coach tells us things we need to work on, things to look for in our next match," says Nathan Sines. The team was mostly led by seniors, but many underclassmen like Daniel Carr are prepared to take the helm. The team has very good prospects for next year.

Southern Produces Another Successful Season

Staff Writer: Courtney DiSimone

The basketball program continues to thrive. The freshman team finished with an impressive record of 19 wins and only one loss. Jordan Pacella's major goal for next year is to "have the best JV record in the school's history."

The JV team, coached by Jim Bosley, ended this season with a record of 17-3. Ryan DeWitt feels that "working hard in the off season with the help of good coaches" has helped him improve as a player this year. Sean McCreery comments, "breaking my right arm forced me to use my left. This truly tested my abilities."

The varsity team concluded their year with 17 wins and seven losses. Coach Bosley earned his 300th win in his coaching career, highlighting the accomplishments of his players over the years.

Also seniors Cory Bosley and Corey Tressler were inducted into the Hall of Fame. Corey Tressler ended his career with 877 points, becoming 11th as Cory Bosley finished with 748 points in the 18th position.

The entire varsity team agrees that the most memorable moment of the season was Mike Shaffer's rap in the locker room.

After the loss of five seniors from the state championship team and the retirement of a legendary coach, this year's Lady Rams basketball team was not expected to go far. Not only did the girls finish WMIL champions and earn an 18-8 record, but they succeeded in making it to the regional finals.

The starting five were led by a sophomore point guard, two juniors, and two seniors.

"We played as a team. Not only did we have different leading scorers on several occasions, but several players got their chance to put points on the board," remarked Kayla Nazelrod. Defying expectations, the Lady Rams remain a menacing force on the court.

Track is a unique sport in which there is always room for improvement. Each athlete pushes himself to run faster, throw harder, or jump longer. This year's track team did just that, allowing for several of our track athletes to qualify to compete amongst Maryland's best high school athletes. The relay team of Sarah Cosner, Kendra McLaughlin, Kelly Taylor, and Meghan Flinn qualified to compete in the 4x100 and 4x200 relays. Kelly Taylor stated, "I'm really excited about running at States!" Representing the boys team at states was senior Travis Nice. Travis qualified with a first place in long jump at regionals.

Brad Reese is a senior outfielder whose hitting skills, speed, and defense will be greatly missed next year. Brad comments, "This past year has been very fun and memorable because it is the last year that all six of the seniors will ever play together."

Cory Bosley had four successful years on the baseball team, earning the title of Most Valuable Player and also winning the Golden Glove award.

Among Chad Everd's many contributions to the team, he was an excellent outfielder as well as one of the leading hitters.

Scott Wildesen was a valuable asset to the Ram baseball team. Scott comments, "I'll never forget my senior year as a Ram pitcher. I'll miss my coaches and teammates."

This year's baseball team had a very successful season. Even though the team's feats fell short of their hopes, they finished with a final record of 15 wins 4 losses. Leading the team were six seniors: Brad Reese, Cory Bosley, Aaron Louden, Scott Wildesen, Chad Everd, and Tyler Graham, whose talent and skill will be greatly missed next year. Scott Wildesen led the team in pitching, with Aaron Louden in a close second. Tyler's skill at hitting, Chad's skill in the outfield, Cory's experience at shortstop, and Brad's all around contributions to the team are irreplaceable. Although their dreams were cut short with their loss to Beall in the playoffs, the Southern Rams were the WMIL champs for the sixth consecutive year. The six seniors will all be missed, but there are high hopes for next year's seniors.

This being Southern's second year tennis team, they pulled through for a great season. The girls tennis team worked hard to do their best and ended the season with seven wins and only three losses. Dianna Ashby, the girls tennis coach, was dedicated to the team and strived to make them come together and win as a team. Although the boys team was far from an undefeated season, they had a great deal of fun. The boys coach, Josh Stephens, made sure that the guys team had a good time as they improved their tennis game. As we change over the course of a school year, the face of our community changes as well. Several of our community's businesses have undergone renovation this year. Those students involved in the school-to-careers program, the nursing and child care programs, and service organizations directly impact our community.
